VOLUME 2.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, OCT. 5, 1911.

NO. 1

A PROCLAMATION

BY MAYOR ROBEY SETTING ASIDE MONDAY, OCTOBER 9.

AS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Some of the Rules for the Prevention of Fire—Citizens Should Observe the Day.

A proclamation was issued by Mayor Robey today to the citizens proclaiming that Monday, October 9, be set aside as Fire Prevention day, and urging that the same be observed. The object of having the day set aside is to have all boxes, trash, paper and other things removed from buildings and houses so as to decrease the danger from loss by fire.

Some of the rules for the prevention of fire, as made by the superintendent of insurance at Jefferson City, follow:

Supplies of matches should be kept in metal boxes and out of the reach of children. As the matches generally used are dangerous and are the cause of a large number of fires, it is recommended that only safety matches be used.

Where lamps are used, they should not be filled by artificial light or after dark.

Coal oil should be kept in metal cans and only in small quantities and in a safe place.

No oily rags should be left around the premises outside of a good metal receptacle.

Gas brackets should have wire globes where there is danger of window curtains being blown into the flame.

All flues and chimneys should be examined carefully by competent persons before fires are started in the fall.

All furnaces or heating apparatus should be inspected by competent persons before winter fires are started, and the danger of fires being started therefrom should be carefully safeguarded.

All scraps, litter, excelsior and paper should be placed in metal receptacles.

All ashes should be kept in metal receptacles.

Gasoline should not be kept about the premises, except in small quantities, and then only in air-tight receptacles.

Cotton batting, other flimsy decorations or candles should not be used on Christmas trees, or for other ornamentation.

Careful attention should be given to heating, lighting and power plants and any defect in connection therewith speedily remedied. The frequent inspection of electric wiring is especially important.

It is advisable to have on hand at all times, conveniently located, fire extinguishers. Seventeen kinds of liquid chemical fire extinguishers have been approved by the National Underwriters association, and care should be used to get one that has been tested and found reliable. All fires could be easily suppressed at the start with a chemical extinguisher.

In factories where a considerable number of employes work, and in schools and other public buildings where people congregate, printed rules should be displayed giving directions for necessary precautions against fire and as to methods for escape from buildings in case of fire.

The burning of rubbish, except under proper public regulations in cities and towns, should be prohibited.

All unnecessary openings in buildings should be closed and all inflammable material around openings removed.

The advisability of cities and towns enacting ordinances calculated to secure the construction of fire resisting buildings and the installation of proper fire escapes is recommended.

The Mayor's Proclamation.

Monday, October 9th, 1911, has been set apart by Governor Herbert S. Hadley, governor of Missouri, as "Fire Prevention day" throughout the state, and at the request of the state's chief executive, I hereby proclaim the observance of the day in this city, and earnestly recommend that upon that day those in charge of public and private buildings make an inspection of such buildings and correct such conditions or defects as may tend to increase the danger from fire. I request that all persons in charge of schools, colleges, factories, places of amusement and other places where people are accustomed to congregate in large numbers, take particular precautions to see that proper fire escapes and other means of escape from buildings are provided, and that proper fire drills be had in order that escape can be had without loss of life in case of fire.

Statistics show that the loss of property by fire in the United States is increasing from year to year. Our annual fire loss results in a tax upon every man, woman and child in this country of $2.65. In addition to the annual property losses, an average of 1,500 persons in the United States are burned to death or suffocated every year, and five thousand additional are injured by fire.

In the state of Missouri the joint stock fire insurance companies in the year 1910 paid for fire losses the sum of five million dollars, and the total loss by fire to the people of the state was doubtless eight million dollars. Those familiar with conditions declare that fully half of this loss was due to preventable causes.

Therefore, in view of these considerations and for the welfare of the people of Maryville, and for the protection of their property, I do hereby proclaim Monday, October 9th, 1911, as Fire Prevention day, and urge that the same be recognized and observed by the people of this city.

A. S. ROBEY, Mayor.

LET'S SMILE ANYWAY.

This Weather Doesn't Look Good or Feel Good, But It's All Right.

Thursday morning was a bad morning gathering news. The rain was cold and nearly everybody was blue that we asked for news. Not one failed to say, "What about our street fair next week if this thing keeps up?" Everybody has the street fair constantly in mind, and a great deal of work is being done right now for decoration and every other thing that is going to make our city's visitors next week feel glad that they came. No matter if it should rain every day this week we must not feel blue, because that would only make good weather and sunny skies all the more likely for our street fair. So let's not look sour or feel blue these days or we can't get our best smile on by Monday morning. There's a cheerful verse always hanging up in a certain business house in town that struck us rather forcibly this morning while making the rounds in the rain. Maybe you would like to know what it is:

It is easy enough to be pleasant,
When life flows along like a song,
But the fellow worth while
Is the one who can smile
When everything goes dead wrong.

It's raining over at Skidmore this week and the big punkin show is going on. But we venture to say that there are some folks over there that are wisely happy enough to be having a good time and be glad for these rains.

Bought Davis Property.

Mrs. Dr. George Glaze of St. Joseph returned to her home Wednesday evening from a day's visit in the city with Dr. Glaze's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Glaze, on North Mulberry street. Dr. and Mrs. Glaze have just purchased the Davis residence property, 405 West Seventh street, as an investment at present, but it is probable they will locate in Maryville before many months.

The Matter With Them.

"What Is the Matter With Our Public Schools?" is the title of a page article in the Sunday issue of the New York Times. We submitted it to a high school boy who shall for the present be nameless, and this is his answer:

"Too dog-gone many of them ain't got nobody that's heavy enough to play center."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Returned From Illinois.

Mrs. John White and daughter returned Thursday morning from a ten day's visit in Chicago and other points in Illinois with Mrs. White's relatives.

IS ART DIRECTOR

F. J. ZIMMERER HEADS KANSAS CITY ART INSTITUTE.

WAS IN NORMAL SCHOOL

Having Charge of the Art Department of That School—Left Maryville in June.

Frank J. Zimmerer, formerly the head of the art department of the State Normal of Maryville for the past three years, leaving Maryville last June, has accepted the position as art director of the Kansas City Fine Arts Institute. The Kansas City papers, in speaking of it, say:

A new home, a new registrar, many new friends—and now the Kansas City Fine Arts Institute has something newer still, an art director. For not only is F. J. Zimmerer new to Kansas City, but the position he takes at the institute is a new one. Hitherto the institution has consisted of a faculty of art instructors and a business manager. Mr. Zimmerer will have supervision of all the classes as well as the wider ambitions of the institute.

Director Zimmerer is a Chicago Art Institute graduate, who later won a place in the faculty of that art school, the foremost in the west, if not in America. He spent seven years at the Chicago Art Institute and was for two years president of the Chicago Art Students' league. The new director secured practical administrative experience by serving as the head of the art departments in one or two state schools.

The Kansas City schools is to be planned after the big institutions in Chicago, New York and Boston. One feature to be introduced will be monthly passing exhibits embracing painting, architectural plans and models, ceramic and crafts displays. The art rooms will be opened formally in a few weeks with an exhibit and reception.

Mr. Zimmerer will take classes in composition and sketching, as well as directing the general work of the institute. The new home of the institution on the top floor of the Y. W. C. A. building will be ready about the end of next week.

TIGERS AND DWARFS

Are Victorious in Basket Ball Game at State Normal.

Standing of Teams.
	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Athletics	1	0	1	1.000
Dwarfs	1	0	1	1.000
Tigers	2	1	1	.500
Dodgers	2	1	1	.500
Giants	2	0	2	.000

All the basket ball dope was upset Wednesday evening when the Dwarfs, reputed to be excellent candidates for the cellar position, trounced the Giants to the tune of 22 to 10. The Dwarfs took the lead at the very start and at no time did the chesty Giants have a look-in. Captain McClintock and Daise played star games. The line-up:

Summary—Field goals, Dunshee 3, Daise 3, McClintock 2, Taylor 1, Seymour 1. Free throws, Daise 5, Taylor 3, Seymour 2. One point awarded each team. The second game was marred by the injury of Medsker, the Dodgers' big center, who had his shoulder dislocated early in the second half. But for Medsker's injury the final score would no doubt have been different.

The Tigers won the game by a grand up-hill fight, the score at the end of the first half being 12 to 7 against them. The final score was 22 to 17. The line-up:

Summary—Field goals, Seymour 4, Medsker 1, McGrew 1, Carpenter 2, Holmes 2, Mitchell 4. Free throws, Seymour 4, Carpenter 4, Holmes 1.

Each team was awarded 1 point. Physical Director Moore refereed both contests and Quinn was the umpire. On Friday night two more contests will be staged at 4:35 in the Normal gymnasium. The Athletics and Dodgers meet in mortal combat and the Dodgers will fight it out with the Dwarfs.

HAVE US BEAT SO FAR.

Worth County Man Has Ear of Corn With 1,800 Grains.

The Democrat-Forum spoke several days ago of an ear of corn raised by J. W. Linville of Skidmore, containing 1,600 grains. Now comes T. F. Payne, a Worth county farmer, residing near Parnell, with two ears that outclasses the Nodaway county ear. The Hopkins Journal, in this week's issue, says:

Nodaway county farmers must now go to hunting for big ears, for it will never do to let a little runt of a county like Worth get ahead of this great Imperial kingdom.

Here is the letter the Journal received from the Worth county man:

Parnell, Mo., Oct. 3, 1911.—Editor Journal: I see by your paper a gentleman in your county has an ear of corn with 1,600 grains. I can go him one better as I have one ear with 1,800 and one with 1,680 grains. The one with 1,800 has 30 rows and the one with 1,680 has 28. How is this for the smallest county in the state?

Yours truly,

T. F. PAYNE.

DRAINAGE BOARD MET.

Talked of getting Dredge Boat for the Drainage Ditch.

The drainage board of the 102 river drainage district met in Maryville Thursday morning to go over some routine business. The board talked about getting the dredge boat that is working on the Nodaway river drainage ditch at present to work on the drainage ditch on the 102 river from the Iowa line to the Carr bridge, south of Maryville. However, no action was taken and the matter was just talked over.

The board intends to bring suits against those who are delinquent in their taxes.

Members of the board present at the meeting were J. C. Pistole, Hopkins; H. H. McClurg, Pickering, and Anderson Craig, O. W. Swinford, George B. Baker of Maryville.

GOOD ROAD WORK

BEING DONE ON THE STATE ROAD EAST OF CITY.

HAVE A FUND OF $1000

To Fix Up Road and Twelve Teams Are Being Used Now On Cutting Down Some of the Hills.

Some good work is being done on the state road out east from Maryville, and twelve teams are being used this week in cutting down some of the hills on that road. The state road is a part of the Saints Highway, and goes eight miles east to the Gallagher corner. A fund of $1,000 has been raised to improve this road, $600 being subscribed by farmers and people in the city $250 by the county and $150 by the township. At present the road workers are cutting down the Oak hill, near the Mazingo branch.

The county court, which was in session this week, ordered a new concrete culvert to be built on the road between the Smock hills. Other improvements are to be made on the road, and when it is finished it will be one of the best pieces of road in the county.

Nearly all of the farmers are dragging this piece of road, and a plan has been adopted that in the future this work will keep up.

U. S. Wright is overseer of the work and is devoting his time in putting the road in good shape.

Returned to Arkansas.

Mrs. John Tobin and little daughter left Thursday morning for their home in DeQueen, Ark., after a two months' visit in Maryville at the home of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. Tobin. They stopped in Kansas City for a brief visit.

The impression deepens upon us that Isaac Stephenson is a misfit in the present generation. He is a good deal more modern than the cave man, but decidedly at a disadvantage in an age of cost accounts and loose-leaf ledgers.

Mr. Stephenson testified before his investigators that his managers expended $111,355 to elect him to the senate. Where it went he does not know. He paid a man $250 for a list of names, but the rest is vague. When informed that a sum of money—say $10,000—was needed, he drew a check, marked the stub "campaign expenses," and dismissed the matter from his mind. He went after the senatorship. He got it. He evidently considers that it was "worth it," as Captain Davy Tip-ton said of the 25c cigar.

All this snacks of an earlier and simpler day. A Draconian statute now demands vouchers and receipts. If $500 was turned over to Bill Smith, an argus-eyed government asks what William did with the same. The senator from Wisconsin belongs not to the age of gold but to the era of noisebes greenbacks of large denomination. He should be gently retired in favor of a man who pays by check and takes receipts.—St. Louis Republic.

BRIGHTENING THE DULL.

Is it worth while spending years in an effort to brighten, if ever so little, the dim intelligence of a defective child? Gradgrind doesn't think so. He says it would be better to pension the sub-normal and let it go at that. But, despite Gradgrind, it is being found that what is done for the afflicted child isn't wholly misdirected energy nor a philanthropy which benefits only the direct object. The normal child is going to be the gainer.

If a locomotive rushes past us on the track, it is not possible to study it intelligently. It goes too fast. To know all about it, it must be studied at a standstill and its slow revolution of its wheels. So with the child mind. Even then the simile is faulty because the machine is an invention and can be studied in the very building, while psychology probably always will be shrouded in biological mystery. Nevertheless, those who can successfully teach an individual whose mind remains through life that of an infant, inevitably learn the best methods of training all minds which begin infantile. The normal child develops with amazing, with mysterious rapidity. It is in the retarded and encumbered mentalities that there is time for careful, patient observation. And out of this will presently evolve something in pedagogy to plead for each child to be treated as an individual differing to some extent from all others, instead of just so much material to be fashioned after the Gradgrind method of hammering with, "Facts, sir, facts!"

Taste seldom belies talent, and if a boy or girl has decided bent in some direction, the chances are it should be permitted to specialize on the things preferred. So the race would have more capability, more efficiency, more genius and less enforced mediocrity. When youth must make its living not as it chooses but as it must, it is too late for much specialization. The only hope is to let the child specialize intelligently first when the job will seek him at the age when now we send a host of indifferently educated workers into the industrial world, perhaps to be chained for life to distasteful occupations, forever robbed of the joy of doing well the thing they like best to do.—St. Joseph News-Press.

THE TEA HABIT DECLINES.

But There is More Coffee Consumed Now Than Ever Before.

During the last twenty years the average import price of tea has declined several cents a pound, yet the consumption per capita has failed to make any gains. If there is any change it is for the worse.

During the same period two things have happened, namely, a great spread of the premium system and the establishment of a market here for India and Ceylon leaf. Japan teas have held their own in this market, India and Ceylon imports have risen from zero to more than fifteen million pounds, and China teas have lost ground.

The retail grocer has passed on the reductions in price to the consumer in many cases, and yet the consumption has remained stationary. Possibly he has not sufficiently narrowed the margin between cost and selling price, and yet, considering the number of cups of liquor a pound will make, tea at ordinary retail prices is a cheap bargain.

A pound of tea will produce from six to ten gallons of liquor, a pound of coffee only about two gallons. Coffee, however, is less easily spoiled in the brewing and seems to vary less in strength and flavor than tea. Grocers obtain supplies of coffee oftener than supplies of tea, and coffee thus reaches the consumer in a fresher state.

Tea is more delicate in flavor and aroma than coffee and not only requires a more discriminate palate, but its flavor, strength and fragrance are more easily lost. Yet these points always had to be reckoned with, and nevertheless twenty years ago half a pound of tea per capita was consumed in excess of the quantity consumed today. Coffee has gained. Tea has lost.

SMILED FOR HIS NERVES.

Professor Took Exercises for His Face and Developed Into an Optimist.

A professor in one of the Eastern colleges once told of a nervous breakdown that he had experienced some time before.

"How did you get over it?" I asked. He smiled. "I went to several of the nerve specialists," he said, "and I didn't succeed in getting any help. Then by chance I heard of a woman, not a physician, who had studied nervous diseases for years and had been very successful in treating them. Some friends persuaded me to go and see her."

"She began by making me learn to smile. You see I had got down to such depths that I couldn't smile. It seemed as if I had lost all power over the muscles of my face. They had become set. They not only expressed the depression that I felt, but they actually added to it."

"I obeyed instructions. I went home and for half an hour I stood before the mirror and I practiced smiling. At first I had a hard time twisting my mouth into a smile. In spite of myself, the muscles would sag. Then I saw that the muscles were actually fighting against me. I kept on trying, and at the end of half an hour I succeeded in making a pretty good imitation of a smile. That exercise I continued several days till I had overcome the rigidity of those facial muscles and learned to control them. After a time I found I could smile almost at will. When I began to be depressed I would smile. At the same time I would resist the depressing thoughts. The combination of the resisting and the smiling would save me from falling into depression."

IT WAS "DELIGHTFUL POISON"

Pretty Legend of the Origin of Wine in Persia, Where It First Was Made.

The making of wine is said to have originated with the Persians, who discovered the process quite by accident. One of their earliest kings, Jemsheed, who, it is said, was only five or six generations from Noah, was the discoverer, or rather a woman of his household was.

"He was immoderately fond of grapes," says the narrative, which is found in Sir John Malcolm's "History of Persia." "and desired to preserve some, which were placed in a large vessel and lodged in a vault for future use. When the vessel was opened the grapes had fermented and their juice in this state was so acid that the king believed it must be poisonous."

"He had some vessels filled with it and 'Poison' written upon each. These were placed in his room. It happened that one of his favorite ladies was affected with nervous headache; the pain distracted her so much that she desired death. Observing a vessel with 'Poison' written on it, she took it and swallowed its contents. The wine, for such it had become, overpowered the lady, who fell down into a sound sleep and awoke much refreshed."

"Delighted with this remedy, she repeated the doses so often that the monarch's poison was all drunk. He soon discovered this and forced the lady to confess what she had done. A quantity of wine was made and Jemsheed and all his court drank of the new beverage, which from the circumstance that led to its discovery is to this day known in Persia by the name of Zeher-e-khoosh, or 'the delightful poison.'"

CYNIC REACHES THE ALTAR

There the Bride Consents to Take Him, Just as He Was Afraid She Would.

Price is really quite an ordinary, primitive sort of person at heart, but he has a reputation among us for unconventional ideas and a decadent point of view. He referred to his engagement as "this regrettable entanglement," and, when he asked me to be his best man he took care to write that "a lady having proposed marriage to him and having shown no signs of relenting, he supposed it was up to him to go through the solemn farce of giving his formal consent to her autocratic designs." I agreed willingly, for we all felt that Price, when he was married, would have to give up saying that sort of thing, and, therefore, one of us ought to be near by to take a note of his last utterance.

The great day came and the bride in her white Jene-sals-quol looked charming, the bridegroom pale, but prepared, and the parson much as usual. With the help of a little stage management from a discreet curate we succeeded, at the appointed time, in being at the chancel steps; the bride's father, the bride, Price and myself, in the customary formation. "Willst thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" asked the parson of Price, and I thought for a second that he was going to seize his opportunity and make his great remark then. But no; he merely, as he would have himself described it, politely acquiesced.

"Willst thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" asked the parson of the bride. "I will," said she. "Ah!" whispered Price in my ear, "I was afraid she would."—Punch.

Not Needed.

A man recently acquired a motor-car. For its proper accommodation he built a shed near his house, and, when the structure was completed, a party of friends, who were invited to inspect it, noticed that, though quite small, the shed was a two-story building.

They wanted to know what he intended to keep in the second story. The owner's reason was not satisfactory, but his wife revealed the reason for the second story.

"You see," she said, "the second story was intended for a hay-loft, and it wasn't until the thing was built that Henry and I realized that a motor-car doesn't eat hay."

Monkey as a Murderer.

Peasants living in the valley of the Nesles are at present in a state of terror concerning a monkey which escaped from a menagerie some miles away.

The animal has been at liberty for several months, and every one talks in dread of the animal's ferocious exploits. It is credited with the murder of two women, stealing various articles and eating children alive. Innumerable battues have been made in the hope of capturing the monkey, but so far it has succeeded in eluding all pursuers.—Paris Correspondence London Daily Mail.

Tin Used in Weighting Silk.

Rules for Automobiles.

The Arkansas County Democrat publishes a set of rules to govern automobiles on public roads. The rules require an automobilist on approaching a team to stop and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery. In case an automobile causes a team to run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile that the team runs, $100 for the second and $200 for the third. On approaching a corner the automobilist will stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, yell and send up three bombs. Automobiles must be painted so as to merge into the pastoral ensemble so that teams and pedestrians may not be startled. The machines must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn and white in winter. Automobilists running on the road at night must send up red rockets every mile and wait ten minutes for the road to clear. The automobilist may then proceed carefully, blowing his horn. When an automobilist meets a horse which refuses to pass the machine he must immediately take his machine apart and conceal the parts in the grass. When the roads are dusty, automobilists, on approaching a house must slow down to one mile an hour and the chauffeur must stand on the bonnet and sprinkle the road in front of the machine.

ORDERED TO MOVE 'STRIKEBREAKERS

People at McComb, Miss., Made Railroad Remove 132.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS OF RIOTING

Train Crew Attacked and Several Seriously Wounded—Illinois Central Posts "Open Shop" Notice in Chicago Stockade.

McComb City, Miss., Oct. 5.—After 24 hours of rioting and excitement the people of McComb demanded that the strikebreakers brought here by the Illinois Central railroad be taken away. The 132 men were placed aboard a heavily guarded special train and taken to New Orleans.

About half hour before the train departed several persons, well armed, left the city going south and took a position on the railroad track on which the special would have to pass. Strike leaders in motor cars persuaded the men to disband.

Three companies of Mississippi national guard patrolled the streets at dark and the belief is expressed that the town will remain quiet.

"If any strikebreaker throws anything from the windows, kill him. If the train is fired upon at any time we will return the fire and you will shoot to kill."

These final orders were given just before the departure of the special train by Maj. George Hoskins of Brookhaven, who was placed in charge of the soldiers aboard.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 5.—While a Georgia & Florida freight was passing through the southern yards at Hamburg, S. C., across the river from here strikers attacked the strikebreaking crew dangerously injuring two and perhaps fatally injuring a third.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The Burnside shops of the Illinois Central road posted formal notice within the stockade that hereafter the road will deal only with individual employees. The strikers declared the change would have no effect on the strike and that the order would be removed when the strike was ended.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH ITALY

Occupation of Tripoli Was Provided for at Time Triple Alliance Was Arranged.

Rome, Oct. 5.—Official circles ridicule the reports circulated with the intention of misleading public opinion concerning incidents between Italy and Austria and of dissensions among the powers regarding their attitude toward Italy.

As a matter of fact, it is said, what is now transpiring was arranged among the states in the triple alliance with the admission of France and Great Britain, who are bound by the agreement of 1901 to support Italy, or at least be neutral whenever it decided to occupy Tripoli.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The United States will take no steps toward mediation in the Turkish-Italian war unless assurance is given by both principals that America's good offices would be welcomed.

IS SECRETARY WILSON TO STAY?

Entire Department of Agriculture in a State of Grave Uncertainty on This Point.

Washington, Oct. 5.—"Is Secretary Wilson to remain?" is the commonest question about the department of agriculture.

Secretary Wilson does not know President Taft's purpose in the readjustment following the Wiley incident. The close friends of the secretary are perturbed as to whether the president desires the secretary to continue at the head of the department.

Mr. Wilson is not going to resign, unless intimation is conveyed to him that his resignation would be acceptable. The reluctance of the president, however, about indicating the scope of reorganization plans for the department, which he intimated in his letter vindicating Dr. Wiley, leaves the entire department in a state of grave uncertainty.

Wild West Show for Taft.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 5.—President Taft saw a bit of the Old West here. Cheyenne did not merely watch him drive through its streets and listen to presidential oratory, but "frontier day," with bucking bronchos and the acts that abound in Wild West shows, was repeated for the president's benefit. The reception committee made the show as nearly as possible like that held a few weeks ago, and 65 performers of all sorts appeared before Mr. Taft.

Kansas Newspaper Quits.

MISTAKE OF BUSY SENATOR

Rubber Stamped Form Letter to Influential Constituent Brings Forth a Reply in Kind.

A prominent middle western senator fell into a practice common in Washington of allowing a secretary to sign the former's name to much of his correspondence with a rubber stamp. He was warned against the custom, but laughingly remarked that the farmers out there wouldn't know the difference. Likewise the senator, as many have, have a stereotyped reply to communications. It so happened that one of these form stamped letters was sent to a substantial and influential constituent. Nothing was known of the break until a few months later, when the senator, endeavoring to rebuild his fences, wrote a letter to the constituent inquiring of political conditions in the home state. A prompt reply was received at the capitol, addressed to the senator, and in the exact form which he had written to the constituent. It read:

The letter was signed with a rubber stamp, not once, but several times, in each instance upside down. For it seems the secretary had hastily stamped the original outgoing letter downside up.—Leslie's Weekly.

Indian Arrows in a Tree.

A large and very old oak tree felled on Indian creek by timber cutters proved to be a landmark of Indians long since dead and gone, says a dispatch from Exeter, Me.

A picture of an Indian with bow and arrow pointing at a running deer was carved in the bark of the tree near the ground, while higher up were pictures of the rising sun, with an Indian kneeling; a flying eagle, a turtle lying on its back and a picture of a snake.

More than a dozen arrows were embedded in the tree, where they had been shot many years ago.

Ghee.

Ghee is used in India as is butter in America and Europe. It is, in fact, butter so prepared that it never becomes stale, and there are recorded instances of its being preserved for a hundred years.

In making ghee, butter is boiled until all the watery particles and curds have been thrown off by repeated skimmings. When the liquor has become clear oil, it is poured into a vessel to cool. When cooled it is granulated and will keep for years without becoming rancid.—Harper's Weekly.

TRIPOLI SHOWS NO WHITE FLAG

Bombarded Twice by Italian Fleet
at Long Intervals.

CHANCE OFFERED TO SURRENDER

Much Damage Done to Forts and Lighthouse Destroyed, But Fire was Not Directed on City or Inhabitants.Djerba, Tunis, Oct. 5.—Tripoli has been bombarded twice by the Italian fleet. The first shot was fired shortly after 3 o'clock. Shelling was resumed early in the morning, after a quiet night.There was a steady, but slow, fire from the warships until dusk and shots also came from the forts in the town.
The bombardment was protracted because of extreme care to avoid useless bloodshed and to respect the homes of non-combatants and the mosques. Admiral Aubrey and Vice Admiral Farewell expected at any moment to see the white flag run up indicating a desire to surrender.As the first shells burst over Tripoli the garrison seemed to awaken. It returned the fire with vigor and energy.
A heavy cannonade was kept up on both sides for a few minutes, and then firing became desultory. So far as could be seen no warship was hit.Vice Admiral Farewell at 4 o'clock ordered his ships to cease firing, to permit the town to surrender, but no sign was given and after a few minutes the ships began again. This time great havoc was wrought.Fortifications were razed, the forts suffered severely and the lighthouse to the northwest was destroyed by shells from the Garibaldi. There was no means of knowing what the loss of life was in Tripoli, but ample opportunity was given the defenders to escape.Before commencing the bombardment of Tripoli the Italian squadron removed all mines and made a careful revision of the hydrographic chart, to insure safety to the coming transports. This operation lasted several days, and probably explains the real reason for the delay in the bombardment.London, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Vienna says that an Italian squadron has bombarded and occupied Mytilen, capital of the island of Lesbos, in the Cretan archipelago, belonging to Turkey.The naval division under Admiral Thaon di Revel has been ordered to bombard Derna and Benghazi.Vienna, Oct. 5.—The Turkish ambassador has informed Count Von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, that the Turkish government has positive information that Italy is preparing to land a large body of troops in Albania. An Austrian naval demonstration is not improbable.

GOOD ROADS INTEREST ATTACHES

Two Movements Started There in the Hope of an Immediate Improvement in Highways.Atchison, Kan., Oct. 5.—Better roads for Atchison county, which needs them, is the object of two movements started here. One concerns lectures by D. Ward King, inventor of the King road drag. He will be here Saturday and his coming has been widely advertised.The other important step looking for better highways is the reorganization here Thursday night of a motor club, and this also has much support. Practically all motor car owners are expected to join, as well as many business men who do not own cars, but who understand the importance of good roads in bringing trade to town.
Members of the club will pay dues to be spent in dragging roads and otherwise improving their condition.

To Bore for Oil in Geary.

Junction City, Kan., Oct. 5.—Business men of Junction City will form a company to prospect in Eastern Geary county for oil or gas. Alexander Evans, a wealthy oil man of Muskogee, while on a visit to his family here a short time ago, went east of town and there found evidences of oil or gas formations.

Caught Women Looters.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 5.—The first arrests for robbery following the flood were made when two foreign women were caught by a state trooper prying open the lid of a trunk. Their home was searched and furs and jewelry valued at $1,000 were recovered.

Bleachers Fell During Race.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—The bleachers at the race track at the state fair grounds fell, throwing about 750 spectators to the ground. Many were injured. A. G. Haines of Rochester, Ill., being injured fatally.

tion against the proposition.

TO INVESTIGATE DIVORCES

NEW PLAN PROPOSED FOR JACK-SON COUNTY.Judges Will Seek Information in Default Cases, in Hope of Reducing Their Number.Kansas City, Oct. 5.—The judges of the circuit court of Jackson county, at a meeting en banc, agreed that something must be done to stop the rush of divorce seekers to the circuit court each term, and that Judge Seaborn's plan to have the board of public welfare employ an attorney or attorneys to conduct an investigation into each divorce case is a good one.
The discussion was informal and no action was taken. A meeting may be called before the beginning of the next term, November 13, to decide on some line of action.Judge J. A. Guthrie said he was agreeable to putting the plan into effect the next term of court. Judge Guthrie is assignment judge next term and by reason of that will hear most of the divorce cases. He favors the plan of all the judges joining in a request to the county court for an appropriation of enough money to pay the salary of investigators.

NINE BALLOONS WILL CONTEST

International Race From Kansas City Will Have Six Entrants—Under French Rules.Kansas City, Oct. 5.—Nine balloons will go up from here in various contests. Six balloons representing the United States, Germany and France, with their pilots and aids are ready.
Indications point to a record-breaking flight.The contest committee of the Aero Club of America of New York are in Kansas City now. The men composing this committee also have been commissioned by the International Aeronautique club of Paris, France, to act for it as the "Commissaire Sportif," which means in English the race commissioners. The international races are under the rules of this French society and this committee is to see that all the rules are observed and are to decide all disputes arising on the grounds and are to make an official report to the French society which will make the awards.Indications are that the weather conditions will be ideal for the balloon races and that the wind will be blowing toward the northeast, which will be favorable for breaking all long distance and endurance records.

OLD OFFICERS RETIRE FROM NAVY

Younger Men Replacing Those Who Have Seen Long Service—Plenty of New Timber.Washington, Oct. 5.—A wholesale clearing out from active service of officers on the retired list is noted in the navy. Such officers have been kept at work because of a shortage in the active list. This was particularly true in the Spanish-American war and the years immediately following, when there was a vast expansion of the naval establishment.Now, however, owing to the perfection of the routine and the increase in the list of active officers resulting from the enlargement of the graduating classes from Annapolis, there are enough active officers to meet all needs, and Secretary Meyer is rapidly displacing the few retired officers still on duty.

Motorist Ran Over a Farmer.

He probably was fatally injured.

OLD ENGLISH SNAKE STORY

When Cow Was Bitten by Reptile, Form of Latter Appeared on the Cream.The west country of England is notoriously a land of strange beliefs and superstitions. In the first week of the present month a cow belonging to Mrs. Heale of Goldburn, Okehampton, which was quite well at the morning's milking, was found in the evening to be suffering from an enormous swelling of the udder. It was concluded at once that the animal had been bitten by something, most probably by a viper.The cow was milked and the milk was about to be flung away when the servant girl interposed, and speaking from previous experience said: "Let it stand, because if the cow has been bitten by a snake it will show up in the milk." The milk was accordingly set aside, and on looking at it some three hours afterward the form of a snake was distinctly seen in the cream which had collected on the surface.There was an exact model of the reptile, the head, with the V mark, the eyes and the tongue projecting from the mouth—perfect throughout to the tail. Moreover, by aid of a magnifying glass the scales of the skin could be distinctly seen. All this was seen by Mrs. Heale, her two grown-up daughters, the servant girl and the boy groom.On the following morning the figure was less distinct. A moth had got into the cream and destroyed the continuity of the tail. Still the figure was traceable, and the attention of the veterinary surgeon was called to it. He admitted that the form of a snake was undoubtedly there. His treatment of the animal from the first was for snake bite.Fine watch and jewelry repairing at Butcher Bird and Martin.

An incident which my son witnessed near Enfield may be worth recording:
He was walking along the highway and noticed at some distance ahead several birds on the road, which he took to be sparrows. As he drew nearer he was able to distinguish a couple of house martins by the side of a small puddle near the others.
Presently one of the supposed sparrows in a sidelong manner drew toward the house martins, and when near it suddenly darted and seized one of them by the head and held it struggling until he got quite near. He then saw it was a redbacked shrike, and to his astonishment it actually flew away with its victim over the hedge by the roadside, showing a strength one would hardly have expected in so small a bird.—From the Field.

Dogs Bring High Prices.

It is not only in England and America that fantastic prices are paid for dogs, but in Germany fanciers will pay high prices. At the recent exhibition of dogs at Cassel a Frenchman offered 12,000 marks, about $600, for a police dog. The dog rejoices in the name of Tell, and the sum offered might be considered as conclusive evidence that Tell is worthy of his famous name, but this is not all. The dog belonged to Sergeant Decker, who refused the tempting offer, observing that his dog should not quit Germany at any price.

Denver Named for General Denver.

Denver was founded by roving prospectors, the first of these pioneer miners settling on the site of the city and erecting their rude cabins in 1858. So rapid was the growth of the settlement that in the following year it was incorporated as a city by the Provisional Legislature, and named Denver in honor of Gen. J. W. Denver, then governor of Kansas, and a man identified with the early growth of the great west.

VOLUME 2.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, THURSDAY, OCT. 5, 1911.

NO. 106.

A PROCLAMATION

BY MAYOR ROBEY SETTING ASIDE MONDAY, OCTOBER 9.

AS FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Some of the Rules for the Prevention of Fire—Citizens Should Observe the Day.

A proclamation was issued by Mayor Robey today to the citizens proclaiming that Monday, October 9, be set aside as Fire Prevention day, and urging that the same be observed. The object of having the day set aside is to have all boxes, trash, paper and other things removed from buildings and houses so as to decrease the danger from loss by fire.

Some of the rules for the prevention of fire, as made by the superintendent of insurance at Jefferson City, follow:

Supplies of matches should be kept in metal boxes and out of the reach of children. As the matches generally used are dangerous and are the cause of a large number of fires, it is recommended that only safety matches be used.

Where lamps are used, they should not be filled by artificial light or after dark.

Coal oil should be kept in metal cans and only in small quantities and in a safe place.

No oily rags should be left around the premises outside of a good metal receptacle.

Gas brackets should have wire globes where there is danger of window curtains being blown into the flame.

All flues and chimneys should be examined carefully by competent persons before fires are started in the fall.

All furnaces or heating apparatus should be inspected by competent persons before winter fires are started, and the danger of fires being started therefrom should be carefully safeguarded.

All scraps, litter, excelsior and paper should be placed in metal receptacles. All ashes should be kept in metal receptacles.

Gasoline should not be kept about the premises, except in small quantities, and then only in air-tight receptacles.

Cotton batting, other flimsy decorations or candles should not be used on Christmas trees, or for other ornamentation.

Careful attention should be given to heating, lighting and power plants and any defect in connection therewith speedily remedied. The frequent inspection of electric wiring is especially important.

It is advisable to have on hand at all times, conveniently located, fire extinguishers. Seventeen kinds of liquid chemical fire extinguishers have been approved by the National Underwriters association, and care should be used to get one that has been tested and found reliable. All fires could be easily suppressed at the start with a chemical extinguisher.

In factories where a considerable number of employes work, and in schools and other public buildings where people congregate, printed rules should be displayed giving directions for necessary precautions against fire and as to methods for escape from buildings in case of fire.

The burning of rubbish, except under proper public regulations in cities and towns, should be prohibited.

All unnecessary openings in buildings should be closed and all inflammable material around openings removed.

The advisability of cities and towns enacting ordinances calculated to secure the construction of fire resisting buildings and the installation of proper fire escapes is recommended.

The Mayor's Proclamation.

Monday, October 9th, 1911, has been set apart by Governor Herbert S. Hadley, governor of Missouri, as "Fire Prevention day" throughout the state, and at the request of the state's chief executive, I hereby proclaim the observance of the day in this city, and earnestly recommend that upon that day those in charge of public and private buildings make an inspection of such buildings and correct such conditions or defects as may tend to increase the danger from fire. I request that all persons in charge of schools, colleges, factories, places of amusement and other places where people are accustomed to congregate in large numbers, take particular precautions to see that proper fire escapes and other means of escape from buildings are provided, and that proper fire drills be had in order that escape can be had without loss of life in case of fire.

Statistics show that the loss of property by fire in the United States is increasing from year to year. Our annual fire loss results in a tax upon every man, woman and child in this country of $2.65. In addition to the annual property losses, an average of 1,500 persons in the United States are burned to death or suffocated every year, and five thousand additional are injured by fire.

In the state of Missouri the joint stock fire insurance companies in the year 1910 paid for fire losses the sum of five million dollars, and the total loss by fire to the people of the state was doubtless eight million dollars. Those familiar with conditions declare that fully half of this loss was due to preventable causes.

Therefore, in view of these considerations and for the welfare of the people of Maryville, and for the protection of their property, I do hereby proclaim Monday, October 9th, 1911, as Fire Prevention day, and urge that the same be recognized and observed by the people of this city.

A. S. ROBEY, Mayor.

LET'S SMILE ANYWAY.

This Weather Doesn't Look Good or Feel Good, But It's All Right.

Thursday morning was a bad morning gathering news. The rain was cold and nearly everybody was blue that we asked for news. Not one failed to say, "What about our street fair next week if this thing keeps up?" Everybody has the street fair constantly in mind, and a great deal of work is being done right now for decoration and every other thing that is going to make our city's visitors next week feel glad that they came. No matter if it should rain every day this week we must not feel blue, because that would only make good weather and sunny skies all the more likely for our street fair. So let's not look sour or feel blue these days or we can't get our best smile on by Monday morning. There's a cheerful verse always hanging up in a certain business house in town that struck us rather forcibly this morning while making the rounds in the rain. Maybe you would like to know what it is:

It is easy enough to be pleasant,
When life flows along like a song,
But the fellow worth while
Is the one who can smile
When everything goes dead wrong.

It's raining over at Skidmore this week and the big punkin show is going on. But we venture to say that there are some folks over there that are wisely happy enough to be having a good time and be glad for these rains.

Bought Davis Property.

Mrs. Dr. George Glaze of St. Joseph returned to her home Wednesday evening from a home visit in the city with Dr. Glaze's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Glaze, on North Mulberry street. Dr. and Mrs. Glaze have just purchased the Davis residence property, 495 West Seventh street, as an investment at present, but it is probable they will locate in Maryville before many months.

The Matter With Them.

"What Is the Matter With Our Public Schools?" is the title of a page article in the Sunday issue of the New York Times. We submitted it to a high school boy who shall for the present be nameless, and this is his answer:

"Too dog-gone many of them ain't got nobody that's heavy enough to play center." —Chicago Record-Herald.

Returned From Illinois.

Mrs. John White and daughter returned Thursday morning from a ten day's visit in Chicago and other points in Illinois with Mrs. White's relatives.

IS ART DIRECTOR

F. J. ZIMMERER HEADS KANSAS CITY ART INSTITUTE.

WAS IN NORMAL SCHOOL

Having Charge of the Art Department of That School—Left Maryville in June.

Frank J. Zimmerer, formerly the head of the art department of the State Normal of Maryville for the past three years, leaving Maryville last June, has accepted the position as art director of the Kansas City Fine Arts Institute. The Kansas City papers, in speaking of it, say:

A new home, a new registrar, many new friends—and now the Kansas City Fine Arts Institute has something newer still, an art director. For not only is F. J. Zimmerer new to Kansas City, but the position he takes at the institute is a new one. Hitherto the institution has consisted of a faculty of art instructors and a business manager. Mr. Zimmerer will have supervision of all the classes as well as the wider ambitions of the institute.

Director Zimmerer is a Chicago Art Institute graduate, who later won a place in the faculty of that art school, the foremost in the west, if not in America. He spent seven years at the Chicago Art Institute and was for two years president of the Chicago Art Students' league. The new director secured practical administrative experience by serving as the head of the art departments in one or two state schools.

The Kansas City schools is to be planned after the big institutions in Chicago, New York and Boston. One feature to be introduced will be monthly passing exhibits embracing painting, architectural plans and models, ceramic and crafts displays. The art rooms will be opened formally in a few weeks with an exhibit and reception.

Mr. Zimmerer will take classes in composition and sketching, as well as directing the general work of the institute. The new home of the institution on the top floor of the Y. W. C. A. building will be ready about the end of next week.

TIGERS AND DWARFS

Are Victorious in Basket Ball Game at State Normal.

Standing of Teams.

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Athletics	1	1	0	1.000
Dwarfs	1	1	0	1.000
Tigers	2	1	1	.500
Dodgers	2	1	1	.500
Giants	2	0	2	.000

All the basket ball dope was upset Wednesday evening when the Dwarfs, reputed to be excellent candidates for the cellar position, trounced the Giants to the tune of 22 to 19. The Dwarfs took the lead at the very start and at no time did the cheery Giants have a look-in. Captain McClintock and Daise played star games. The line-up:

Giants—Taylor right forward; Price, left forward; V. Seymour, center; McKee, right guard; Hanna, left guard. Summary—Field goals, Dunshee 3, Daise 3, McClintock 2, Taylor 1, Seymour 1. Free throws, Daise 5, Taylor 3, Seymour 2. One point awarded each team. The second game was marred by the injury of Medsker, the Dodgers' big center, who had his shoulder dislocated early in the second half. But for Medsker's injury the final score would no doubt have been different.

The Tigers won the game by a grand up-hill fight, the score at the end of the first half being 12 to 7 against them. The final score was 22 to 17. The line-up:

Physical Director Moore refereed both contests and Quinn was the umpire. On Friday night two more contests will be staged at 4:35 in the Normal gymnasium. The Athletics and Giants meet in mortal combat and the Dodgers will fight it out with the Dwarfs.

HAVE US BEAT SO FAR.

Worth County Man Has Ear of Corn With 1,800 Grains.

The Democrat-Forum spoke several days ago of an ear of corn raised by J. W. Linville of Skidmore, containing 1,600 grains. Now comes T. F. Payne, a Worth county farmer, residing near Parnell, with two ears that outclasses the Nodaway county ear. The Hopkins Journal, in this week's issue, says:

Nodaway county farmers must now go to hunting for big ears, for it will never do to let a little runt of a county like Worth get ahead of this great Imperial kingdom.

Here is the letter the Journal received from the Worth county man: Parnell, Mo., Oct. 3, 1911.—Editor Journal: I see by your paper a gentleman in your county has an ear of corn with 1,600 grains. I can go him one better as I have one ear with 1,800 and one with 1,680 grains. The one with 1,800 on has 30 rows and the one with 1,680 has 28. How is this for the smallest county in the state?

Yours truly,
T. F. PAYNE.

DRAINAGE BOARD MET.

Talked of getting Dredge Boat for the Drainage Ditch.

The drainage board of the 102 river drainage district met in Maryville Thursday morning to go over some routine business. The board talked about getting the dredge boat that is working on the Nodaway river drainage ditch at present to work on the drainage ditch on the 102 river from the Iowa line to the Carr bridge, south of Maryville. However, no action was taken and the matter was just talked over.

The board intends to bring suits against those who are delinquent in their taxes.

Members of the board present at the meeting were J. C. Pistole, Hopkins; H. H. McClurg, Pickering, and Anderson Craig, O. W. Swinford, George B. Baker of Maryville.

Visiting His Sisters.

Ray David, who is in the employ of the Pacific Express company of St. Joseph, arrived in Maryville Wednesday for a week-end visit with his sisters, Mrs. S. T. Gile and Mrs. J. H. Anderson.

Misses Minnie, Effie and Crystal Everhart of Pickering were in Maryville Wednesday evening.

GOOD ROAD WORK

BEING DONE ON THE STATE ROAD EAST OF CITY.

HAVE A FUND OF $1000

To Fix Up Road and Twelve Teams Are Being Used Now On Cutting Down Some of the Hills.

Some good work is being done on the state road out east from Maryville, and twelve teams are being used this week in cutting down some of the hills on that road. The state road is a part of the Saints Highway, and goes eight miles east to the Gallagher corner. A fund of $1,000 has been raised to improve this road, $600 being subscribed by farmers and people in the city $250 by the county and $150 by the township. At present the road workers are cutting down the Oak hill, near the Mozingo branch.

The county court, which was in session this week, ordered a new concrete culvert to be built on the road between the Smock hills. Other improvements are to be made on the road, and when it is finished it will be one of the best pieces of road in the county.

Nearly all of the farmers are dragging this piece of road, and a plan has been adopted that in the future this work will keep up.

U. S. Wright is overseer of the work and is devoting his time in putting the road in good shape.

Returned to Arkansas.

Mrs. John Tobin and little daughter left Thursday morning for their home in DeQueen, Ark., after a two months' visit in Maryville at the home of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. Tobin. They stopped in Kansas City for a brief visit.

Visited in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hilsabeck of Albany arrived in Maryville Thursday on a visit to their son, Bert Hilsabeck, and family, who live in the residence at the pump house. Mr. and Mrs. Hilsabeck are on their way home from a visit in Oklahoma.

Miss Lou Cunningham is a new employee in the millinery department of the Alderman dry goods store.

Obituary.

Helen Frances Culbertson, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Culbertson, was born October 3, 1897, and died September 27, 1911, at her home, two miles southeast of Arkoe, of infantile paralysis, after a six weeks' illness. She was a sweet, lovable child. She suffered much during her illness, and she clung patiently to her parents as though she realized she could not be with them long. The memory of the sweet smiling face and her still little form in death, that looked like a lily uprooted on its bed, has opened the way to heaven for those who so deeply mourn.

Accompanied Aunt to Topeka.

Attorney M. E. Ford accompanied his aged aunt, Mrs. Margaret Lynch of Trall, Ore., to Topeka, Kan., Thursday morning, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Belle Llewellyn. Mrs. Lynch has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lucy Ford, living west of Maryville.

Turner, secretary of the street fair committee, will be a feature of fair week, and all information either as to rooms wanted or other matters will be given. The bureau will be located in a booth that will be built on West Third street, right north of the Montgomery Shoe company. This booth will also be the secretary's office for that week.

John Wallace returned Thursday noon from St. Joseph with 5,000 feet of decorations that was made in that city this week. These decorations will be put up Friday and Saturday and are red and white in color.

Work will begin in earnest Friday and Saturday of building booths and decorating the streets and the stores. Some of the store windows have already been decorated in the fall colors.

All of the decorating and building of booths will be finished by Monday for the opening day. The fair is to open in full blast Monday night. The free attractions were secured in Omaha this week by M. A. Turner and F. P. Reuillard. One of the free attractions secured was Capt. Nick Carter, champion high diver of the world. He dives ninety-five feet into a tank of water four and a half feet deep. Before diving the water is set on fire and he plunges into the flames, which rise to a height of twenty feet.

The impression deepens upon us that Isaac Stephenson is a misfit in the present generation. He is a good deal more modern than the cave man, but decidedly at a disadvantage in an age of cost accounts and loose-leaf ledgers.

Mr. Stephenson testified before his investigators that his managers expended $111,385 to elect him to the senate. Where it went he does not know. He paid a man $250 for a list of names, but the rest is vague. When informed that a sum of money—say $10,000—was needed, he drew a check, marked the stub "campaign expenses," and dismissed the matter from his mind. He went after the senatorship. He got it. He evidently considers that it was "worth it," as Captain Davy Tip-ton said of the 25c cigar.

And this smacks of an earlier and simpler day. A Draconian statute now demands vouchers and receipts. If $500 was turned over to Bill Smith, an argus-eyed government asks what William did with the same. The senator from Wisconsin belongs not to the age of gold but to the era of noiseless greenbacks of large denomination. He should be gently retired in favor of a man who pays by check and takes receipts.—St. Louis Republic.

BRIGHTENING THE DULL.

Is it worth while spending years in an effort to brighten, if ever so little, the dim intelligence of a defective child? Gradgrind doesn't think so. He says it would be better to pension the sub-normal and let it go at that. But, despite Gradgrind, it is being found that what is done for the afflicted child isn't wholly misdirected energy nor a philanthropy which benefits only the direct object. The normal child is going to be the gainer.

If a locomotive rushes past us on the track, it is not possible to study it as it goes. It goes too fast. To know all about it, it must be studied at a standstill and its slow revolution of its wheels. So with the child mind. Even then the simile is faulty because the machine is an invention and can be studied in the very building, while psychology probably always will be shrouded in biological mystery. Nevertheless, those who can successfully teach an individual whose mind remains through life that of an infant, inevitably learn the best methods of training all minds which begin infantile. The normal child develops with amazing, with mysterious rapidity. It is in the retarded and enfeebled mentalities that there is time for careful, patient observation. And out of this will presently evolve something in pedagogy to plead for each child to be treated as an individual differing to some extent from all others, instead of just so much material to be fashioned after the Gradgrind method of hammering with, "Facts, sir, facts!"

Taste seldom belies talent, and if a boy or girl has decided bent in some direction, the chances are it should be permitted to specialize on the things preferred. So the race would have more capability, more efficiency, more genius and less enforced mediocrity. When youth must make its living not as it chooses but as it must, it is too late for much specialization. The only hope is to let the child specialize intelligently first when the job will seek him at the age when we send a host of indifferently educated workers into the industrial world, perhaps to be chained for life to distasteful occupations, forever robbed of the joy of doing well the thing they like best to do.—St. Joseph News-Press.

THE TEA HABIT DECLINES.

But There is More Coffee Consumed Now Than Ever Before.

During the last twenty years the average import price of tea has declined several cents a pound, yet the consumption per capita has failed to make any gains. If there is any change it is for the worse.

During the same period two things have happened, namely, a great spread of the premium system and the establishment of a market here for India and Ceylon leaf. Japan teas have held their own in this market, India and Ceylon imports have risen from zero to more than fifteen million pounds, and China teas have lost ground.

The retail grocer has passed on the reductions in price to the consumer in many cases, and yet the consumption has remained stationary. Possibly he has not sufficiently narrowed the margin between cost and selling price, and yet, considering the number of cups of liquor a pound will make, tea at ordinary retail prices is a cheap bargain.

A pound of tea will produce from six to ten gallons of liquor, a pound of coffee only about two gallons. Coffee, however, is less easily spoiled in the brewing and seems to vary less in strength and flavor than tea. Grocers obtain supplies of coffee oftener than supplies of tea, and coffee thus reaches the consumer in a fresher state.

Tea is more delicate in flavor and aroma than coffee and not only requires a more discriminate palate, but its flavor, strength and fragrance are more easily lost. Yet these points always had to be reckoned with, and nevertheless twenty years ago half a pound of tea per capita was consumed in excess of the quantity consumed today. Coffee has gained. Tea has lost.

SMILED FOR HIS NERVES.

Professor Took Exercises for His Face and Developed Into an Optimist.

A professor in one of the Eastern colleges once told of a nervous breakdown that he had experienced some time before.

"How did you get over it?" I asked. He smiled. "I went to several of the nerve specialists," he said, "and I didn't succeed in getting any help. Then by chance I heard of a woman, not a physician, who had studied nervous diseases for years and had been very successful in treating them. Some friends persuaded me to go and see her.

"She began by making me learn to smile. You see I had got down to such depths that I couldn't smile. It seemed as if I had lost all power over the muscles of my face. They had become set. They not only expressed the depression that I felt, but they actually added to it.

"I obeyed instructions. I went home and for half an hour I stood before the mirror and I practiced smiling. At first I had a hard time twisting my mouth into a smile. In spite of myself, the muscles would sag. Then I saw that the muscles were actually fighting against me. I kept on trying, and at the end of half an hour I succeeded in making a pretty good imitation of a smile. That exercise I continued several days till I had overcome the rigidity of those facial muscles and learned to control them. After a time I found I could smile almost at will. When I began to be depressed I would smile. At the same time I would resist the depressing thoughts. The combination of the resisting and the smiling would save me from falling into depression."

IT WAS "DELIGHTFUL POISON"

Pretty Legend of the Origin of Wine in Persia, Where It First Was Made.

The making of wine is said to have originated with the Persians, who discovered the process quite by accident. One of their earliest kings, Jemshedd, who, it is said, was only five or six generations from Noah, was the discoverer, or rather a woman of his household was.

"He was immoderately fond of grapes," says the narrative, which is found in Sir John Malcolm's "History of Persia," "and desired to preserve some, which were placed in a large vessel and lodged in a vault for future use. When the vessel was opened the grapes had fermented and their juice in this state was so acid that the king believed it must be poisonous.

"He had some vessels filled with it and 'Poison' written upon each. These were placed in his room. It happened that one of his favorite ladies was affected with nervous headache; the pain distracted her so much that she desired death. Observing a vessel with 'Poison' written on it, she took it and swallowed its contents. The wine, for such it had become, overpowered the lady, who fell down into a sound sleep and awoke much refreshed.

"Delighted with this remedy, she repeated the doses so often that the monarch's poison was all drunk. He soon discovered this and forced the lady to confess what she had done. A quantity of wine was made and Jemshedd and all his court drank of the new beverage, which from the circumstance that led to its discovery is to this day known in Persia by the name of Zeher-khoosh, or 'the delightful poison.'"

CYNIC REACHES THE ALTAR

There the Bride Consents to Take Him, Just as He Was Afraid She Would.

Price is really quite an ordinary, primitive sort of person at heart, but he has a reputation among us for unconventional ideas and a decadent point of view. He referred to his engagement as "this regrettable entanglement," and, when he asked me to be his best man he took care to write that "a lady having proposed marriage to him and having shown no signs of relenting, he supposed it was up to him to go through the solemn farce of giving his formal consent to her autocratic designs." I agreed willingly for we all felt that Price, when he was married, would have to give up saying that sort of thing, and, therefore, one of us ought to be near by to take a note of his last utterance.

The great day came and the bride in her white Je-ne-sais-quoi looked charming, the bridegroom pale, but prepared, and the parson much as usual. With the help of a little stage management from a discreet curate we succeeded, at the appointed time, in being at the chapel steps; the bride's father, the bride, Price and myself, in the customary formation.

"Wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife?" asked the parson of Price, and I thought for a second that he was going to seize his opportunity and make his great remark then. But no; he merely, as he would have himself described it, politely acquiesced.

"Wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?" asked the parson of the bride. "I will," said she.

"Ah!" whispered Price in my ear, "I was afraid she would."—Punch.

Not Needed.

A man recently acquired a motor-car. For its proper accommodation he built a shed near his house, and, when the structure was completed, a party of friends, who were invited to inspect it, noticed that, though quite small, the shed was a two-story building.

They wanted to know what he intended to keep in the second story. The owner's reason was not satisfactory, but his wife revealed the reason for the second story.

"You see," she said, "the second story was intended for a hay-loft, and it wasn't until the thing was built that Henry and I realized that a motor-car doesn't eat hay."

Monkey as a Murderer.

Peasants living in the valley of the Nesles are at present in a state of terror concerning a monkey which escaped from a menagerie some miles away.

The animal has been at liberty for several months, and every one talks in dread of the animal's ferocious exploits. It is credited with the murder of two women, stealing various articles and eating children alive. Innumerable battues have been made in the hope of capturing the monkey, but so far it has succeeded in eluding all pursuers.—Paris Correspondence London Daily Mail.

Tin Used in Weighting Silk.

A chemist has recently analyzed a sample of a silk dress that was submitted to him by a lady. He found that it contained only a fraction over 25 per cent. of silk, and as much tin was found in it as that present in poor tin ores from Cornwall. The tin occurs in the so-called weighting of the silk. The chemist states that he at once realized the fact that the silk dresses worn by the ladies in London, taken together, would represent a Cornish tin mine of very fair quality.—London Mail.

J. C. DENHAMHosmer Building, Corner Third and Buchanan Streets*When there is any better harness made than Denham makes, Denham will make it.*Rules for Automobiles.

The Arkansas County Democrat publishes a set of rules to govern automobiles on public roads. The rules require an automobilist on approaching a team to stop and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery. In case an automobile causes a team to run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile that the team runs, $100 for the second and $200 for the third. On approaching a corner the automobilist will stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, yell and send up three bombs. Automobiles must be painted so as to merge into the pastoral ensemble so that teams and pedestrians may not be startled. The machines must be green in spring, golden in summer, red in autumn and white in winter. Automobilists running on the road at night must send up rockets every mile and wait ten minutes for the road to clear. The automobilist may then proceed carefully, blowing his horn. When an automobilist meets a horse which refuses to pass the machine he must immediately take his machine apart and conceal the parts in the grass. When the roads are dusty, automobilists on approaching a house must slow down to one mile an hour and the chauffeur must stand on the bonnet and sprinkle the road in front of the machine.

ORDERED TO MOVE STRIKEBREAKERS

People at McComb, Miss., Made Railroad Remove 132.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS OF RIOTING

Train Crew Attacked and Several Seriously Wounded—Illinois Central Posts "Open Shop" Notice in Chicago Stockade.

McComb City, Miss., Oct. 5.—After 24 hours of rioting and excitement the people of McComb demanded that the strikebreakers brought here by the Illinois Central railroad be taken away. The 132 men were placed aboard a heavily guarded special train and taken to New Orleans.

About half hour before the train departed several persons, well armed, left the city going south and took a position on the railroad track on which the special would have to pass. Strike leaders in motor cars persuaded the men to disband.

Three companies of Mississippi national guard patrolled the streets at dark and the belief is expressed that the town will remain quiet.

"If any strikebreaker throws anything from the windows, kill him. If the train is fired upon at any time we will return the fire and you will shoot to kill."

These final orders were given just before the departure of the special train by Maj. George Hoskins of Brookhaven, who was placed in charge of the soldiers aboard.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 5.—While a Georgia & Florida freight was passing through the southern yards at Hamburg, S. C., across the river from here strikers attacked the strikebreaking crew dangerously injuring two and perhaps fatally injuring a third.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The Burnside shops of the Illinois Central road posted formal notice within the stockade that hereafter the road will deal only with individual employees. The strikers declared the change would have no effect on the strike and that the order would be removed when the strike was ended.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH ITALY

Occupation of Tripoli Was Provided for at Time Triple Alliance Was Arranged.

Rome, Oct. 5.—Official circles ridicule the reports circulated with the intention of misguiding public opinion concerning incidents between Italy and Austria and of dissensions among the powers regarding their attitude toward Italy.

As a matter of fact, it is said, what is now transpiring was arranged among the states in the triple alliance with the accession of France and Great Britain, who are bound by the agreement of 1901 to support Italy, or at least be neutral whenever it decided to occupy Tripoli.

Washington, Oct. 5.—The United States will take no steps toward mediation in the Turkish-Italian war unless assurance is given by both principals that America's good offices would be welcomed.

IS SECRETARY WILSON TO STAY?

Entire Department of Agriculture in a State of Grave Uncertainty on This Point.

Washington, Oct. 5.—"Is Secretary Wilson to remain?" is the commonest question about the department of agriculture.

Secretary Wilson does not know President Taft's purpose in the readjustment following the Wiley incident. The close friends of the secretary are perturbed as to whether the president desires the secretary to continue at the head of the department.

Mr. Wilson is not going to resign, unless intimation is conveyed to him that his resignation would be acceptable. The reticence of the president, however, about indicating the scope of reorganization plans for the department, which he intimated in his letter vindicating Dr. Wiley, leaves the entire department in a state of grave uncertainty.

Wild West Show for Taft.

Cheyenne did not merely watch him drive through its streets and listen to presidential oratory, but "frontier day" with bucking bronchos and the acts that abound in Wild West shows, was repeated for the president's benefit. The reception committee made the show as nearly as possible like that held a few weeks ago, and 65 performers of all sorts appeared before Mr. Taft.

Kansas Newspaper Quits.

MISTAKE OF BUSY SENATOR

Rubber Stamped Form Letter to Influential Constituent Brings Forth a Reply in Kind.

A prominent middle western senator fell into a practice common in Washington of allowing a secretary to sign the former's name to much of his correspondence with a rubber stamp. He was warned against the custom, but laughingly remarked that the farmers out there wouldn't know the difference. Likewise the senator, as many have, have a stereotyped reply to communications. It so happened that one of these form stamped letters was sent to a substantial and influential constituent. Nothing was known of the break until a few months later, when the senator, endeavoring to rebuild his fences, wrote a letter to the constituent inquiring of political conditions in the home state. A prompt reply was received at the capitol, addressed to the senator, and in the exact form which he had written to the constituent. It read:

The letter was signed with a rubber stamp, not once, but several times, in each instance upside down. For it seems the secretary had hastily stamped the original outgoing letter downside up.—Leslie's Weekly.

Indian Arrows in a Tree.

A large and very old oak tree felled on Indian creek by timber cutters proved to be a landmark of Indians long since dead and gone, says a dispatch from Exeter, Me.

A picture of an Indian with bow and arrow pointing at a running deer was carved in the bark of the tree near the ground, while higher up were pictures of the rising sun, with an Indian kneeling; a flying eagle, a turtle lying on its back and a picture of a snake.

More than a dozen arrows were embedded in the tree, where they had been shot many years ago.

Ghee.

Ghee is used in India as is butter in America and Europe. It is, in fact, butter so prepared that it never becomes stale, and there are recorded instances of its being preserved for a hundred years.

In making ghee, butter is boiled until all the watery particles and curds have been thrown off by repeated skimmings. When the liquor has become clear oil, it is poured into a vessel to cool. When cooled it is granulated and will keep for years without becoming rancid.—Harper's Weekly.

TRIPOLI SHOWS NO WHITE FLAG

Bombarded Twice by Italian Fleet
at Long Intervals.

CHANCE OFFERED TO SURRENDER

Much Damage Done to Forts and Lighthouse Destroyed, But Fire was Not Directed on City or Inhabitants.

Djerba, Tunis, Oct. 5.—Tripoli has been bombarded twice by the Italian fleet. The first shot was fired shortly after 3 o'clock. Shelling was resumed early in the morning, after a quiet night.

There was a steady, but slow, fire from the warships until dusk and shots also came from the forts in the town.

The bombardment was protracted because of extreme care to avoid useless bloodshed and to respect the homes of non-combatants and the mosques. Admiral Aubrey and Vice Admiral Farewell expected at any moment to see the white flag run up indicating a desire to surrender.

As the first shells burst over Tripoli the garrison seemed to awaken. It returned the fire with vigor and energy. A heavy cannonade was kept up on both sides for a few minutes, and then firing became desultory. So far as could be seen no warship was hit.

Vice Admiral Farewell at 4 o'clock ordered his ships to cease firing, to permit the town to surrender, but no sign was given and after a few minutes the ships began again. This time great havoc was wrought.

Fortifications were razed, the forts suffered severely and the lighthouse to the northwest was destroyed by shells from the Garibaldi. There was no means of knowing what the loss of life was in Tripoli, but ample opportunity was given the defenders to escape.

Before commencing the bombardment of Tripoli the Italian squadron removed all mines and made a careful revision of the hydrographic chart, to insure safety to the coming transports. This operation lasted several days, and probably explains the real reason for the delay in the bombardment.

London, Oct. 5.—A dispatch from Vienna says that an Italian squadron has bombarded and occupied Mytilen, capital of the island of Lesbos, in the Grecian archipelago, belonging to Turkey.

The naval division under Admiral Thomsen di Revel has been ordered to bombard Derna and Benghazi.

Vienna, Oct. 5.—The Turkish ambassador has informed Count Von Aehrenthal, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, that the Turkish government has positive information that Italy is preparing to land a large body of troops in Albania. An Austrian naval demonstration is not improbable.

GOOD ROADS INTEREST ATCHISON

Two Movements Started There in the Hope of an Immediate Improvement in Highways.

Atchison, Kan., Oct. 5.—Better roads for Atchison county, which needs them, is the object of two movements started here. One concerns lectures by D. Ward King, inventor of the King road drag. He will be here Saturday and his coming has been widely advertised.

The other important step looking for better highways is the reorganization here Thursday night of a motor club, and this also has much support. Practically all motor car owners are expected to join, as well as many business men who do not own cars, but who understand the importance of good roads in bringing trade to town. Members of the club will pay dues to be spent in dragging roads and otherwise improving their condition.

To Bore for Oil in Geary.

Junction City, Kan., Oct. 5.—Business men of Junction City will form a company to prospect in Eastern Geary county for oil or gas. Alexander Evans, a wealthy oil man of Muskogee, while on a visit to his family here a short time ago, went east of town and there found evidences of oil or gas formations.

Caught Women Looters.

Austin, Pa., Oct. 5.—The first arrests for robbery following the flood were made when two foreign women were caught by a state trooper prying open the lid of a trunk. Their home was searched and furs and jewelry valued at $1,000 were recovered.

Bleachers Fell During Race.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—The bleachers at the race track at the state fair grounds fell, throwing about 750 spectators to the ground. Many were injured. A. G. Haines of Rochester, Ill., being injured fatally.

New Rule for Beatrice.

Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 5.—The commission form of government was adopted at a special election here by a majority of 59. There was a strong opposition against the proposition.

TO INVESTIGATE DIVORCES

NEW PLAN PROPOSED FOR JACKSON COUNTY.

Judges Will Seek Information in Default Cases, in Hope of Reducing Their Number.

Kansas City, Oct. 5.—The judges of the circuit court of Jackson county, at a meeting en banc, agreed that something must be done to stop the rush of divorce seekers to the circuit court each term, and that Judge Seaborn's plan to have the board of public welfare employ an attorney or attorneys to conduct an investigation into each divorce case is a good one. The discussion was informal and no action was taken. A meeting may be called before the beginning of the next term, November 13, to decide on some line of action.

Judge J. A. Guthrie said he was agreeable to putting the plan into effect the next term of court. Judge Guthrie is assignment judge next term and by reason of that will hear most of the divorce cases. He favors the plan of all the judges joining in a request to the county court for an appropriation of enough money to pay the salary of investigators.

NINE BALLOONS WILL CONTEST

International Race From Kansas City Will Have Six Entrants—Under French Rules.

Kansas City, Oct. 5.—Nine balloons will go up from here in various contests. Six balloons representing the United States, Germany and France, with their pilots and aids are ready. Indications point to a record-breaking flight.

The contest committee of the Aero Club of America of New York are in Kansas City now. The men composing this committee also have been commissioned by the International Aeronautic club of Paris, France, to act for it as the "Commissaire Sportif," which means in English the race commissioners. The international races are under the rules of this French society and this committee is to see that all the rules are observed and are to decide all disputes arising on the grounds and are to make an official report to the French society which will make the awards.

Indications are that the weather conditions will be ideal for the balloon races and that the wind will be blowing toward the northeast, which will be favorable for breaking all long distance and endurance records.

OLD OFFICERS RETIRE FROM NAVY

Younger Men Replacing Those Who Have Seen Long Service—Plenty of New Timber.

Washington, Oct. 5.—A wholesale clearing out from active service of officers on the retired list is noted in the navy. Such officers have been kept at work because of a shortage in the active list. This was particularly true in the Spanish-American war and the years immediately following, when there was a vast expansion of the naval establishment. Now, however, owing to the perfection of the routine and the increase in the list of active officers resulting from the enlargement of the graduating classes from Annapolis, there are enough active officers to meet all needs, and Secretary Meyer is rapidly displacing the few retired officers still on duty.

Motorist Ran Over a Farmer.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 5.—Oliver Westhoff, a farmer whose home is near Lyons, Kan., was run down on a business street here by a big touring car. He probably was fatally injured.

Killed an Officer With Clubs.

Muskogee, Ok., Oct. 5.—T. J. Kirk, city marshal at Marble City, Ok., was beaten to death with clubs by six drunken men. The men are in jail at Sallisaw.

ODD ENGLISH SNAKE STORY

When Cow Was Bitten by Reptile, Form of Latter Appeared on the Cream.

The west country of England is notoriously a land of strange beliefs and superstitions. In the first week of the present month a cow belonging to Mrs. Heale of Goldburn, Okehampton, which was quite well at the morning's milking, was found in the evening to be suffering from an enormous swelling of the udder. It was concluded at once that the animal had been bitten by something, most probably by a viper.

The cow was milked and the milk was about to be flung away when the servant girl interposed, and speaking from previous experience said: "Let it stand, because if the cow has been bitten by a snake it will show up in the milk." The milk was accordingly set aside, and on looking at it some three hours afterward the form of a snake was distinctly seen in the cream which had collected on the surface.

There was an exact model of the reptile, the head, with the V mark, the eyes and the tongue projecting from the mouth—perfect throughout to the tail. Moreover, by aid of a magnifying glass the scales of the skin could be distinctly seen. All this was seen by Mrs. Heale, her two grown-up daughters, the servant girl and the boy groom.

On the following morning the figure was less distinct. A moth had got into the cream and destroyed the continuity of the tail. Still the figure was traceable, and the attention of the veterinary surgeon was called to it. He admitted that the form of a snake was undoubtedly there. His treatment of the animal from the first was for snake bite.

Butcher Bird and Martin.

An incident which my son witnessed near Enfield may be worth recording: He was walking along the highway and noticed at some distance ahead several birds on the road, which he took to be sparrows. As he drew nearer he was able to distinguish a couple of house martins by the side of a small puddle near the others.

Presently one of the supposed sparrows in a sidelong manner drew toward the house martins, and when near it suddenly darted and seized one of them by the head and held it struggling until he got quite near. He then saw it was a redbacked shrike, and to his astonishment it actually flew away with its victim over the hedge by the roadside, showing a strength one would hardly have expected in so small a bird.—From the Field.

Dogs Bring High Prices.

It is not only in England and America that fantastic prices are paid for dogs, but in Germany fanciers will pay high prices. At the recent exhibition of dogs at Cassel a Frenchman offered 12,000 marks, about $600, for a police dog. The dog rejoices in the name of Tell, and the sum offered might be considered as conclusive evidence that Tell is worthy of his famous name, but this is not all. The dog belongs to Sergeant Decker, who refused the tempting offer, observing that his dog should not quit Germany at any price.

Denver Named for General Denver.

Denver was founded by roving prospectors, the first of these pioneer miners settling on the site of the city and erecting their rude cabins in 1858. So rapid was the growth of the settlement that in the following year it was incorporated as a city by the Provisional Legislature, and named Denver in honor of Gen. J. W. Denver, then governor of Kansas, and a man identified with the early growth of the great west.

The city was reincorporated in 1861 by the first territorial Legislature, and in 1867 it became the capital of the Territory of Colorado.
